

PwC's Leading with Insights framework

Insights at light speed: Enrich your SAP S/4HANA transformation

The opportunity

What if you could take advantage of the latest in SAP cloud analytics technology – even before your S/4HANA implementation go-live? While SAP provides critical business value, migrating ERP takes time. Today's organizations need a fast track to achieving insights that help solve their biggest business problems. SAP's BTP and Datasphere technology present a powerful opportunity to achieve this faster.

Our solution

PwC's Leading with Insights framework helps to accelerate your move to SAP cloud analytics. The framework includes:

- Accelerators that map legacy application sources to SAP S/4HANA
- Data transformation tools improved for S/4HANA
- Models for native S/4HANA structures
- Industry-leading analytics dashboards for real-time insights such as working capital and global spend

Key differentiators

Why PwC's Leading with Insights is different

Simplified

Our solution is built with industry leading practices that set the stage for sustained growth and lower maintenance costs over the long term.

Reusable

Leading with Insights is built using our deep library of analytics and dashboards that are ready to go with minimal configuration, if required.

Agile

Build upon the power inherent in SAP HANA and greatly reduce technical debt by implementing a simplified, legacy-free design that grows with you.

PwC's Leading with Insights framework

Achieve next-gen SAP Analytics quickly

Preconfigured

Gone are the complex whiteboarding and customization sessions you're used to. Typical results see a net reduction of up to 5 weeks spent during alignment and implementation phases.

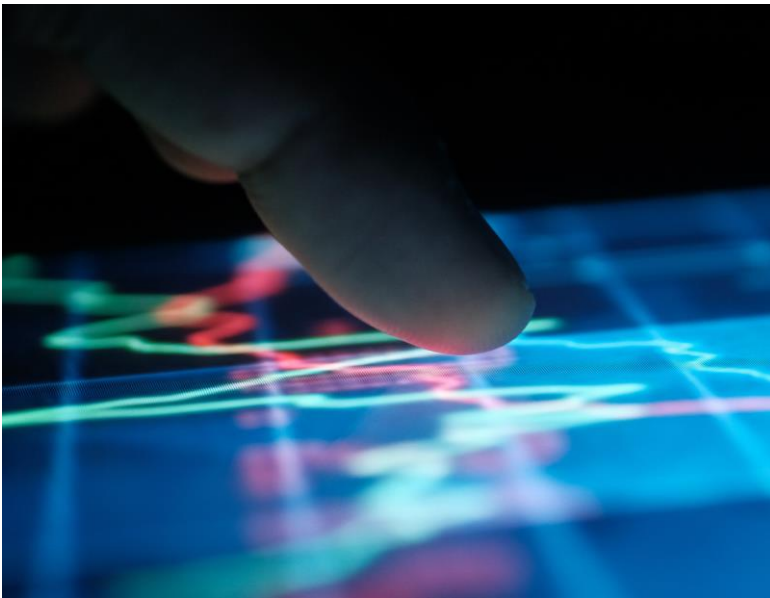

Centralized

Harmonize data across your SAP and other essential technology landscapes, implementing a standardized operating model that can bring insights and data together from disparate sources, reducing both latency and errors.

No Technical Debt

Increase your ROI no matter where you are on your S/4HANA journey. Regardless of what phase your transformation is at, Leading with Insights continues to grow with you and evolve.
